when this occurs, neurons are more prone to fire off.

the calcium-binding properties of osteocalcin require vitamin k, whereas the synthesis of osteocalcin itself requires vitamin d3.

the decision, while dumb for many reasons, left me feeling as though i had buried a piece of steel wool, doused in icy hot and sprinkled with the smell of rotting seafood, in my vagina