"we don’t have nearly the amount of quick and efficient connectivity to intensive outpatient services that we did before," Kessler said.

Quebec is ahead of the curve, though, having approved its law already, which takes effect on December 10.

Ginger increases circulation, and reduces side effects associated with chemotherapy.

Savings are also expected under the long term illness (lti) scheme, which covers the cost of medicines and appliances for patients with long-term illnesses such as diabetes.