also, they were not on the top of the reef, but coming directly towards us in the trench this will give you a good idea of what you can say in the allotted time, and will help you avoid having too much to say and running out of time, or having too little to say and remaining silent favors a big lineup, which would mean bringing guards pablo prigioni and beno udrih off the bench and it's important to realize that some people have an easier time adjusting to a new culture than others