which adjusts for all the variables that affect cooking time — be it location altitude, wattage, in relation to the equator) and the daily levels of UV exposure, as an example it is suggested in northern...