she likes boys style clothing and plays with mainly boys, but also questions why her gender should influence or dictate her interests and choices.

The bad news is that a small number of men have aggressive prostate cancers that grow and spread quickly.